18. The show Veterinarian will examine all remaining entries following the ram weigh-in. All consigned sheep will be examined by the veterinarian for general health, structural soundness including feet and legs, eyes and eyelids, and mouth.
19. Any questionable animals found by the veterinarian or judge will be discussed privately with the sales committee and/or sifting committee. A sifting committee may be used at the discretion of the host committee and/or Board of Directors to evaluate sheep which may not meet the standards of the breed. A determination will be made if the sheep shall be shown and/or offered for purchase in the National Sale.
20. Consignors will be responsible for paint branding their own consignments prior to the show. Paint branding equipment and paint will be provided by the NSS committee.
21. Any evidence of tampering, to cover a disqualification, will eliminate an animal from the sale.
22. All sheep on the grounds are held at the consignor's risk until sold. Ownership changes when the auctioneer says, "sold." Sheep are held at the purchaser's risk from that time forward. The Columbia Sheep Breeders Association assumes no responsibility or liability, whatsoever, for sheep on the grounds, or prior to or after the sale. The CSBA assumes no liability due to fire, floods, thefts, wind, lockouts, accidents, or any other causes.
23. Each consignor will be allowed one reserved bid to the auctioneer prior to the sale of the sheep. Any sheep purchased by reserve bid will be listed as "passed." A 10% commission and 1% host committee assessment will be collected on all sheep "passed" at the reserve bid.
24. Registration certificates will be transferred to buyers when payment clears. Should the buyer need transfer papers immediately the buyer shall pay cash or pay with credit card plus a 4% credit card fee.
25. Sale checks will be issued within 30 days after the sale. Transfer papers to buyers will be issued when the appropriate money transaction has occurred between the buyer and the CSBA.
26. Should a dispute occur, a $25.00 inquiry or complaint may be given in writing to the CSBA Board of Directors. If the complainant in the inquiry is found correct, the complainant's money will be refunded. If not found correct, the Association will retain the fee.
27. In the case of disputes not settled, an arbitration committee, to include the executive committee and a representative for the buyer and seller, will hold a conference call to determine a binding agreement between the parties in dispute.

28. There will be no “by bidding.” The Board of Directors will review transfers of the National Show and Sale to verify that there was no by bidding. Board action will be taken if infractions are found to be appropriate and as defined by the CSBA By-Laws.
29. Consignors will make entries on-line. The on-line entry form is at www.columbiasheep.org.
